

SECTOR: AGREEMENTS

FPI

Black Onyx .

ETFSA

Journal ✓

IASSA - Ann Marie Wood

From: IASSA <IASinvitations@iassa.co.za>
Sent: 14 July 2017 04:06 PM
To: iassa@iafrica.com
Subject: The Investment Analysts Journal Communiqué

Having trouble viewing this email? Read it online instead

Dear IAS Member

The Investment Analysts Society of South Africa NPC is the proprietor of the Investment Analysts Journal. The Society has a publishing agreement with UK based publishing house Taylor & Francis Group, a division of Informa UK Ltd.

A substantial commitment is made by the IAS with respect to the funding, supervision and guardianship of the IAJ to ensure its continuing success. The IAJ is published in three volumes annually. Furthermore, the IAS has sponsored a special South African Finance Association conference edition. The first issue of the Journal was dated November 1972, making this the 45th year of publication.

The IAS Board is delighted with the excellent progress being made by the IAJ, which is the premier financial publication in South Africa for academic and practitioner papers. The goal is to elevate the Journal to the top academic tier internationally with a commensurate citation impact. Submissions of articles for consideration are received from numerous countries and, on average, only 10% to 15% of manuscripts received make the cut for final publication, underscoring the rigor applied.

IAS members have the privilege of gaining access to the IAJ free of a subscription fee. I would encourage all members to avail themselves of this benefit given the advantages it has for continuing professional development.

The website is <http://tandfonline.com>. For those not yet registered with an official account, Taylor & Francis has a list of current paid-up members and a request can be sent to support@tandfonline.com.

The 32nd annual IAS awards were held on Wednesday the 21st of June at the Johannesburg Stock Exchange. The 2016 Journal Award went to two South Africans, amidst stiff international competition. The winners are Mr. Brendan Prettejohn, Post-Graduate Student at UCT, and Professor Gary van Vuuren, Extraordinary Professor at North West University. Their paper is entitled "The effect of yield curve shape and level on bond immunisation effectiveness" which was published in the Investment Analysts Journal Vol. 45, Issue 3, pages 177 - 193.

This winning article has been posted on the IAS website for download and is a very good example of how an academic work has real-world application for practitioners in the bond market.

<http://www.iassa.co.za/journals/>

Mark N Ingham

Director

Investment Analysts Society of South Africa NPC

Registration number 2014/014810/08

Should you wish to unsubscribe from further IAS communications, please click here

Appointment of EDITORS
+

T + E Agreement

In office file - too large to scan